A. L. Paulson, M. D., who has practiced medicine in New York City for many years, gave out the following recipe for a home-made gray hair remedy: "Gray, streaked or faded hair can be immediately turned black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the following simple remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a small box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for mixing and use come in each box.

"You need not hesitate to use Orlex, as a $100.00 gold bond comes in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlex does not contain silver, lead, zinc, sulphur, mercury, aniline, coal-tar products or other derivatives.

"It does not rub off, is not sticky or greasy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger."—Advertisement.

CITY BOARDS NAMED FOR WATER PLAN

Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond have taken quick action in relation to their interests in the proposed arrangement for a joint ownership by Eastbay cities of a water supply, and have appointed committees to cooperate with the committee appointed by Mayor Davis as the result of the proposal made yesterday at the council meeting.

Mayor Davis will tomorrow name the third member of a committee to meet with and cooperate with similar committees from Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond.

The committee will be composed of Ralph A. Beebe, consulting engineer of the city of Oakland; H. L. Hagan, city attorney, and a third member, not yet named, but who the mayor says is one of the most eminent engineers in this city.

The mayor's ordinance, designed to create a Division of Public Service as a department of the city government, called for the appointment of a Public Service Commission composed of five members to be named by the city council, and approved by the city council.

This plan, Mayor Davis says, will be abandoned by the committee of the cities of the Eastbay in acquiring a water supply. According to Councilman Boynton, a meeting will be called in the immediate future by the Eastbay committee to consider various sources of water supply for Alameda county.

"An investigation will be made of the Hetch Hetchy project, Blue Lake, and through its civic organizations sought these plants, but now that they have arrived Oakland has not been able to accommodate the workers. The housing committee points out, breeds labor unrest.

The report gives figures on the industrialization of Oakland, showing how the total of wage earners and salary earners has grown by leaps and bounds, with particular reference to labor in shipyards and industries. From a total of $791,000 in 1914, the figure has leaped to $3,300,000, or increased over 300 per cent. Building, however, has not increased in proportion, with the result that all available homes for rent have been filled. Drainage of labor from Sacramento River, El Estero and Marin county as possible sources of supply of the Eastbay section," declared Councilman Boynton this morning. "The sources of supply which may come before the committee will also be given thorough consideration and resolute action will be taken to secure the most feasible source of supply has been decided upon. This committee is made up of engineers and architects who hope to reach a decision soon as to the best method of providing water supply. Boynton declared that much expense and red tape must be eliminated by the discovery of a simple way of water supply by any municipality. This act, Boynton declared, eliminates the need for a commission at a salary of $4000 each year, as provided under the present act, and will save the city of $100,000 for the city in acquiring its water supply.

ALAMEDA ACT. ALAMEDA, Nov. 26.—The Alameda city council endorsed last night a proposal to name a joint inter-city board or committee of three members each from Oakland, Alameda, Oakland and Richmond to investigate possible sources of water supply for the bay cities. The council named City Engineer A. P. St. Sure, City Manager C. E. Hewes and City Engineer Burnett Hamilton.

The city manager reported that the scope of the committee's activities was to be limited to investigation work and that the representatives would report back to their various city councils the facts they discovered.

Mayor Greene Majors, who was a strong advocate of the municipal water league, which went to defeat at the primary election, said he was heartily in favor of the plan, or any other plan which would give the cities an adequate water supply.

Councilman Al Latham remarked that when the city council considered the matter, which was placed before the council in a communication from City Engineer C. C. Kennedy of Berkeley.

By naming a committee to act with similar ones from other cities on an investigation of the water supply, a joint water system the city council would give the approval to a plan by which use may be made of the California statute allowing such joint ownership of a supply and individual city ownership of the distributing systems.

City Engineer H. D. Chapman, City Attorney D. J. Hall and Councilman E. J. Garrard were named on the committee. The matter was placed before the council in a communication from City Engineer C. C. Kennedy of Berkeley.

The new Union Construction contracts, the Spencer-Kellogg factory, the Farr Terminal Company and other new firms were cited as being about to bring employment for many new workers, with the result that the present industrial population will increase and must be housed here or elsewhere. Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley as a whole, the report says, need about 10,000 houses, representing an investment of eighteen to thirty million dollars.

3000 HOMES ARE NEEDED IN OAKLAND
Three thousand new homes would restore Oakland to normal in the matter of a choice of housing to let, and 1000 at once would relieve families in congested sections at the present time. One thousand more houses would mean that from 25 to 30 per cent of the men now working here and living across the bay could be accommodated here, with consequent increased business in Oakland. One thousand houses will be needed to house the naval base employees when the base is situated here.

While the matter is a community problem, the report holds, it is impossible for the municipality to handle it as such, and as a result a program similar to the Seattle plan was suggested. In this drive 500 business men were asked to serve as volunteer workers and a campaign was started to induce owners of vacant lots to build workers' homes on them. The organization of business men, known as the "More Homes Bureau," cooperated with the architects of the city, standardized plans and specifications were arranged for various types of homes, and architectural costs were thus reduced.

A business organization to help owners to finance building is also in operation in Seattle, through a second mortgage association. Oakland's campaign, as outlined by the committee report, could be made much after the same manner. The committee drawing up the report consisted of H. A. Laffer, Captain Joseph E. Caine and A. S. Lavenson.

This report will be submitted to all improvement clubs, building organizations and others interested. The membership of the general committee is to be enlarged by representation from these organizations, and when the new committee report is completed it will be turned over to a general meeting. In the meantime Laffer will investigate the Seattle plan in person.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. — Trial of the $101,000 breach of promise suit brought by Miss Helen M. Rosenfeld of New York City against Harvey A. Berquist, manager of a department store in San Jose, has been set for trial January 2 before Federal Judge M. T. Dooling of the district court.

GOVERNOR ASKS FOR DEFENSE AID

Governor William D. Stephens has chosen the State Council of Defense as best equipped for the important task of working out a unified and comprehensive after-the-war program that may serve as a basis for recommendations to the Legislature.

As a result, Director Charles C. Moore has addressed the individual members of the state commissions and other bodies, enclosing copies of the governor's recommendations, and inviting suggestions as to the manner in which the work there indicated can be put into practical effect. Commenting on the action taken by Governor Stephens, Director Moore said:

"The State Council of Defense appreciates the extent of the responsibility assigned to it by the governor, and realizes that effective recommendations must be the result of intelligent and earnest co-operation of the commissions and the agencies of the state at large. By your full co-operation with us at the threshold of this readjustment period constructive policies may be built.

Among those who have been invited to contribute suggestions are: C. C. Young, Lieutenant Governor; Frank Jordan, Secretary of State; John S. Chambers, Comptroller; Friend William Richardson, Treasurer; U. S. Webb, Attorney General; General J. A. Borde and members of the following bodies: Railroad Commission, State Board of Control, State Board of Education, State Board of Forestry, California State Board of Health, State Board of Equalization, State Board of Harbor Commissioners, State Mining Bureau, State Reclamation Board, State Water Commission, California Highway Commission of the Department of Engineering, State Commissioner of Horticulture, Commission of Immigration and Housing, Industrial Accident Commission, Industrial Welfare Commission, Bureau of Labor Statistics, State Land Settlement Board, California State Library, State Market Director, California Development Board, Chambers of Commerce, San Francisco Labor Council, University of California, San Francisco Trades Council, State Labor Federation, Social Insurance Commission.

Vocational Work Proves Important Schools Develop Ideal System

"Elasticity is one of the distinguishing features of the Oakland public school system," said Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of schools, today in discussing vocational training. "This elasticity is especially emphasized in the field of vocational training, in which the aim is to adapt the instruction to the future needs of the student.

"Few citizens realize that in the public school system of the city of Oakland we have a great organization which has for its primary purpose the making of every boy and every girl in the city into an efficient worker and an intelligent citizen."

It is the special province of the vocational guidance and attendance bureau, under the direction of Nicholas Ricciardi, to correlate the vocational work of the schools, to assist the teachers in adapting the work to the needs of the pupils, and to give individual guidance to students in regard to fitting themselves for their chosen vocation.

"The nature of the work accomplished by this bureau is indicated by the transfer this week of four 16-year-old boys from the Hawthorne school to the Vocational High school, where they will pursue those studies which will directly train them for the work they intend taking up after graduation from the Hawthorne school.

"This means that these boys, who would otherwise have left school without graduating, will be given credit at the Hawthorne school for the three months' work done at the Vocational High school, and will be permitted to return to the Hawthorne school on graduation day and receive their diplomas just as though they had completed their course there.

A report issued by Vocational Director Ricciardi points out that boys and girls who go to work between the ages of 14 and 18 without vocational guidance are a menace to industrial efficiency and, except in rare instances, doom themselves to continue either in some line which they begin by accident, and which has no special appeal to them, or else to become what is known as unskilled floaters drifting about from one line to another and

Word Is Received From the President

Expression of the pleasure of President Wilson over the almost normal efficiency maintained during the war by the schools and other educational agencies of the United States, as announced by the president in a letter to Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, under date of July 31, is reviewed by "Our Public Schools," published periodically by the Board of Education. Thirty thousand copies of the publication have been distributed in the local public schools. In his letter to Secretary Lane the President says in part:

"I approve most heartily your plans for making through the Bureau of Education a comprehensive campaign for maintenance and attendance upon them, and trust that you may have the co-operation in this work of the American Council of Education."

Among announcements in the publication issued by the local Board of Education are:

Captain Foster Is Raised to Be Major

Captain Harry E. Foster of the Army Medical Corps has just been advised of his promotion to a major. He is stationed at present at Letterman Hospital in San Francisco. Before entering the army, Foster specialized in biology and bacteriology and acquired an enviable reputation for his valuable work in these lines.

He is the son of Dr. N. K. Foster of this city.

The increase in enrollment in the local public schools for the nine months during the school year of 1916-17 is reported to be 4059. The increase in average daily attendance is given as 1486.

Army to Deal Hard With All Deserters

Aid and co-operation of citizens in apprehending deserters and men absent without leave from the army is asked by the adjutant general, who has sent an appeal to the chairman of the county division of the State Council of Defense, according to an announcement of the war news bureau of the council.

The adjutant general states that desertions now will cripple execution of the plans for a well-regulated demobilization, and that if they are not followed by prompt apprehension and return of the deserters to camp, it will result in a breaking of the morale.

Names and addresses of soldiers deserting or absent without leave will be reported to the State Council of Defense by the war department through commanding officers of the various departments, cantonments, etc. Citizens are asked to report all suspected cases of desertion.

BIG INCREASE IN RATES FORECASTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25. — Tremendous increases in majority of class freight rates for use in California, proposed by former director general of railroads, William G. McAdoo, October 25 will, it is adopted, create radical increases between practically all points in California, is the opinion of W. P. Geary, rate expert of the State Railroad Commission today.

Acting on his suggestion, the Commission today issued to 200 or more of the largest shippers throughout the State and to the largest cities affected by the proposed raise, a request that they provide the commission with detailed information, tending to show what effect, in their opinion, the suggested scale will have, viewing the subject not only in the light of the volume of increase but also in its commercial and economic aspect. Prompt action was urged to enable the Commission to comply with McAdoo's request that it express its views on the proposed rates.

The proposed rates are greatly in excess of the scales adopted by the Commission during the last eight years, and if carried out, the percentage increase over pre-war rates between Oakland and Sacramento, would be 130 per cent. Oakland and Stockton, 220 per cent. Oakland and Fresno, 65 per cent. Los Angeles, 113; San Jose, 514 per cent.

The proposed rates mentioned, for zone which includes California, Oregon, Washington, South Dakota, North Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, south of the Missouri river, Louisiana west of the Mississippi river and that portion of Texas known as Texas Common Point territory. Under the McAdoo proposal California is included in the states to which will be applied the 100 per cent scale, the other zones taking 75 to 120 per cent scale.

The request sent by McAdoo to the Railroad Commission is similar to that sent to his directors of profit and of public service in which he stated: "I am especially anxious that you shall understand I am not wedded to any theory or to any schedule. My purpose is to bring on a safe and intelligent discussion of this whole subject to the end that what is right and in the public interest may prevail. Similar schedules will be presented in other parts of the country."

Ferry Company Is Allowed Fare Raise

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25. — Richmond and San Rafael Ferry and Transportation company, also the San Quentin State company, were today granted their application by the State Railroad Commission for permission to increase passenger fares, the petition based on the increase in operating expenses due to the rise in cost of fuel oil and labor.

The new schedule allows the company to charge 17 cents between Point Richmond and Pt. San Quentin, 22 cents between Point Richmond and San Quentin, and 33 cents between Point Richmond and San Rafael. The old rates were 15, 20 and 30 cents respectively, children under 12 years paying one-half the new rate.

OBSERVATIONS on The SOLOELLE

The Tone-Coloring Solo Player Piano

BY CLARENCE EDDY

It has long been recognized that if a means could be found to separate and control separately Melody and Accompaniment, a vital objection to the player piano would be removed.

The entire player piano industry was groping and searching for a solution of this problem, when as suddenly as a bolt of lightning from a clear sky the invention of the wonderful Soloelle was announced.

It then became apparent that the separation of Melody and Accompaniment control, which the Soloelle completely accomplished, was in reality not a goal (as it had so long been considered), but, in the light of further and more startling accomplishments of the Soloelle, was really the necessary and indispensable foundation which formed the starting point of the production of music by the player piano.

The Soloelle not only solved the hitherto baffling problem of separate Melody and Accompaniment control, but provides a complete control over the stroke of the piano hammer which affords the control over Tone-Color—these two accomplishments of the Soloelle completely bridge the vast gap between the player piano with its mechanical, imitation music, and the ideal artistic player piano of the future (the Soloelle), whose performance in the hands of any intelligent person rivals the musical performance of the higher class of virtuosi.

Those musically educated always understood that it was the lack of Tone-Color in the music of a player piano that made it monotonous, mechanical, sing-songy and tiresome—they know that Tone-Color is to music what perspective is to painting, and that Tone-Color is as readily recognizable and as readily understood even by those who have not been schooled in the technique of art and music.

You have but to hear the Soloelle—The Tone-Coloring Solo Player Piano—to realize the vast possibilities of musical entertainment and pleasure that it opens for the individual who has never been taught to play from the keyboard.

THE MACY REPORT Decision as to Wages, Hours and Other Conditions in Pacific Coast Shipyards SECOND INSTALLMENT

The Macy scale, which shipbuilders of the Pacific Coast have had under consideration since its recent submission, and the report accompanying it, will be published in full by THE TRIBUNE, appearing in daily installments during this week. The report is of such manifest importance, not only to the men affected in its establishment of a wage scale, but because of the scheme of labor adjustment which it proposes that its publication in full is deemed highly justifiable.

The report considers successively the reasons and basis for a national wage scale, the basing of future increases on the changes in the cost of living, transportation expenses, shop committees for the adjustment of grievances, discrimination, weekly pay and many other subjects. The second installment of the report follows:

SECTION II. FUTURE INCREASES IN WAGES BASED ON CHANGES IN THE COST OF LIVING.

A principal reason for the existence of this board and of the other governmental wage adjusting agencies is to promote stability in the war industries by insuring just and reasonable readjustments in wages at periodic intervals without the necessity of recourse to strikes or lock-outs. Unfortunately every readjustment of wages is of necessity itself a cause of widespread unrest and inefficiency. This advance in shipyard wages which we are now making because of the ascertained increase in the cost of living, and the advances which are being continuously made in other industries will inevitably cause further increases in the cost of living.

To prevent any possible misunderstanding in reference to the position of this board with regard to future readjustments of wages, we announce that we shall be guided by the following principles:

(a) Until such time as the President may determine that the national interest requires suspension of the policy of advancing the wages of laborers, helpers and journeymen in the basic skilled crafts to correspond with "general and material increases in the cost of living" we shall deem it our duty to be guided in future readjustments by such ascertained increases.

(b) The authority upon which we shall continue to rely for information as to changes in the cost of living is the agency of the national government which has been created and is maintained to make statistical investigations of labor conditions, the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor.

(c) After conference with representatives of the other governmental wage adjusting agencies we have decided that the dates at which it will be most expedient to make wage adjustments are October 1 and April 1. We have requested the Bureau of Labor Statistics to make the necessary investigations so that we may be advised of future changes in the cost of living in time to announce on those dates whether readjustments are required and what readjustments.

(d) To give precision to the expression "general and material increase in the cost of living" we realize that as used in the memorandum of principles means an average increase in the cost of living in the shipbuilding centers of the district to which any wage adjustment applies if not less than 10 per cent. It is clearly our duty to relieve shipyard employees of the burden that "material" and long continued increases in the cost of living would impose upon them; and we deem it also our duty to relieve government industries of the unsettlement and loss that result from readjustments in wages, unless increases in the cost of living that are really "material" have taken place.

SECTION III. TRANSPORTATION EXPENSES OF EMPLOYEES.

Since our previous decisions were rendered the largest agency of the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation has developed to a point which makes it expedient to vest in it full responsibility for determining the policies to be adopted in reference to the carrying or absorbing the daily transportation expenses of shipyard employees in places where the local housing facilities are inadequate. We therefore include no regulations in reference to this subject in this decision.

SECTION IV. SHOP COMMITTEES FOR THE ADJUSTMENT OF GRIEVANCES.

Shipyard owners not parties to joint agreements with the labor organizations of their respective districts are directed to co-operate with their employees in making effective the following rules in reference to industrial disputes: provided that shipyards having in operation substantially similar rules may, on the recommendation of the district examiner approved by the board, be permitted to continue such rules in operation.

(1) The employees of each craft shall have the right to select three (3) of their number to represent them as members of a shop committee. Each member of this committee shall be chosen for a term of six months by majority vote through secret ballot in such manner as the employees desired term shall be filled by ballot. Members of an outgoing committee shall be eligible for re-election. The chairman of each shop committee shall be a member of a joint shop committee. The joint shop committee shall by ballot select five (5) of its members to act as an executive committee to represent it in conference with the superintendent. In higher officials of the company. In contested cases, the district examiner shall decide as to the validity of the election of a shop committee and supervise a new election when he deems such new election necessary.

STATE COUNCIL TO HUNT MEN JOBS

In connection with the after-war program of reconstruction, the State Council of Defense is preparing to set up immediately touch with the various draft boards to obtain the names and addresses of the men who have gone out from the counties, together with such other information as the boards may furnish relative to the work of providing returned men, who served their country, with suitable employment.

At the same time the county divisions are requested to consider the advisability of appointing readjustment committees, who shall be charged with the duty of preparing estimates of the construction work held up as non-essential within twenty-four hours, receive all wages due him.

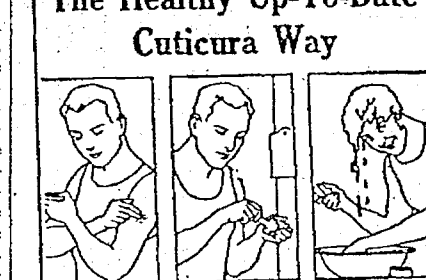

SECTION IX. COMPULSORY INSURANCE ASSESSMENTS PRO- HIBITED.

Disappearing of insurance assessments arbitrarily required by employers and with due regard to the limitations of existing statutes, we direct that no employee who makes such assessments in writing shall be required by the employing shipyard to pay any assessment, not made obligatory by state law, for insurance, medical attendance, or other benefits.

HAS DEADLY INFLUENZA GERM BEEN CONQUERED

Scientific Investigation Proves Beyond Question That Disease Germs Can be Destroyed by Over-Oxidization As Well As by Direct Poison—New Discovery Creates Wide-Spread Interest.

NO DISCOVERY in the field of medicine within the past year, perhaps, has created such wide-spread interest and discussion as the announcement that a new preventive treatment for Spanish Influenza had been found. The new treatment is called Wilson's Solution or Anti-Flu.

It is the discovery of Prof. Robert C. Wilson, head of the Department of Pharmacy of one of the largest universities in the country. Leading physicians, specialists and bacteriologists give the preparation the highest endorsement after submitting it to the most exhaustive tests. The solution is composed of some of the most powerful antiseptics and germicides known to science and experimenters. It is a well-known fact that influenza is ten times as powerful as carbolic acid, although the preparation is harmless when used in the proper directions. To many this would appear impossible, but it is a well-known fact that the bacteria which cause influenza are so extensively in the war hospitals, as fifty times as powerful as mercury. The above statement, therefore, seems mild by comparison.

It is Prof. Wilson's theory that the germs which cause influenza are not merely in the nose and throat, but that they can be destroyed by the powerful vapors from his solution by merely inhaling the fumes from a few drops on the handkerchief. The fact that tens of thousands have apparently received immunity from the disease after using Wilson's Solution seems to support this theory.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. It attacks all classes, regardless of age, sex or conditions. A majority of the ill-afflicted people today can be traced back to the kidney trouble. The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers, of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim. Kidney disease is usually indicated by weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, rheumatic troubles, difficulty in urinating, pain in the loins and lower abdomen, gait stumbles, gravel, rheumatism, scintillation and lumago. All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Brand Kidney Pills immediately. The soothing, healing oil within the kidneys, relieves inflammation and restores the normal action of the kidneys. Do not wait until it is too late. Go to your druggist today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Brand Kidney Pills. In twenty-four hours you should feel healthy and vigorous. You will bless the day you first heard of GOLD MEDAL Brand Kidney Pills. After you feel that you have leaved yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL Brand Kidney Pills. Money refunded if they do not help you.—Advertisement.

sent for the winning of the war, and any other construction work or trade development that may reasonably be anticipated and encouraged for two years ahead, with approximate estimates of cost and amount of labor that will be required.

It is urged by the Council of Defense that these preliminary steps be undertaken at once, and without waiting for the establishment of a definite program of reconstruction. If reliable data can be furnished as to how many men in the community may be provided with immediate work it will help forward the state council's preparation of a plan not only for providing against unemployment of archery and proved that they can easily provide themselves with meat in the wilderness. With the archers was a pack of famous bear dogs in charge of Tom Murphy of Blocksburg. The bear made a dash for liberty and outdistanced the dogs for 300 yards, but tired after going that distance and slackened his pace. The hunters, who were stationed on the side of a hill, shot a number of arrows at him, seven of which struck through his body and one struck him in the head, bringing him down. The bows had a 75-pound pull and the arrows were 28 inches long and tipped with steel one inch and a half long and one inch wide.

The Real New Orleans MOLASSES from New Orleans

WEAR W.S.S. BUTTON, IS NEW SLOGAN

Wear your War Savings button! This is the call of the executive committee in charge of the War Savings Stamp "Honor Week" campaign which is being conducted this week. By wearing it you will show that you are doing your share to put Alameda county "over the top" in the "War Savie" drive.

Honor Week, which is to last until next Saturday night, is to be productive of the most strenuous effort yet put forward by the War Savings Stamp workers. Commencing yesterday morning booths were established on all downtown street corners and today and for the rest of the week more than 200 volunteer women workers will lend their efforts toward bringing the county somewhere near the top of the list in the War Savings sales for the year.

According to the announcement of the executive committee today only 64 per cent of the stamps which should have been disposed of up to that time had been sold on November 1. In other words, the residents of Alameda county should have bought $5,512,333 worth of War Savings Stamps up to November 1, while the actual sale to that date was only $3,501,783. The county's total quota for the year is $6,615,160.

While Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley are far behind in their stamp sales, Washington township on November 1 had sold $82,534 worth of stamps, while her total quota for this entire year is only $70,000—over-sales to date of more than $12,000.

Murray township's sales on November 1 should have been $65,000. That district went more than $10,000 better, its sales to that date being $75,717. Its quota for the entire year is $78,000.

Eden township leads all other districts in the county for the spurt of its response in the War Savings campaign, having sold $108,012 worth of stamps as compared with its quota of $83,333 on November 1. Its quota for the entire drive is $100,000—$8000 less than already has been sold.

At a handsomely appointed dinner held at Delta Gamma sorority house Friday, the engagement of Miss Marion Edith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Edith, to John L. Roth of Woodland, was announced. The bride-to-be, who is a student at the University of California, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Edith, formerly of Minneapolis, but who have since moved to Berkeley.

STRUGGLE BY ZOE BECKLEY

Ned Flower went to his room and fell into the sudden and heavy sleep of youth exhausted. The future, even the immediate present, with its ugly portent of defeat, which Ned had met, could not break into that sleep until the young boy had fed on the rest it craved.

Several hours later his prone form stirred uneasily. Slowly, as though shaking himself from the grip of nightmare, Ned tossed from side to side, then sat up suddenly. For some moments he waited for that heavy feeling about his heart to leave him, along with the ugly phantasmata which had been so real a moment before.

Instead of fading with the rest of the bad dream, however, the weight stayed on his heart. He had met his first real failure—a failure not due to change of circumstances which needed only another try to overcome. He had failed because of an actual lack in his character. The realization turned Ned Flower from a dreamer to a doer.

At bottom Ned was a brother to Edith, the metal in him of the same good vein that made the alloy in her. At this moment the real man in him showed in his honest feeling about the cause of his failure to sell his invention to a universal people, the biggest concern in the business.

It had been characteristic of Ned Flower to accuse himself of the realization of his failure and its cause would have meant nothing. Most chronic failures have this habit. They feel themselves to be. Then they proceed to prove in deeds the truth of their words.

But Ned was a sound youth, heavy with the consciousness of his talents and a future in which no glory was impossible. It was no easy and familiar mood, therefore, in which he found himself when he awoke. Feeling that he had been criminally weak and negligent, the next thing was to administer punishment.

He did not eat. "Edith—Edith," he said to them, as they sat with their eyes reluctant to meet his. "I have just waked up. I have waked up to the kind of conceited fool I've been. But I'm awake now. And I'm going to stay awake and do something about it. The first thing on the program will be for me to stop being a burden on you. I'm moving over to the Inn tonight. Edith, please don't try to stop me. It's for my own good. I'm doing it. I've done little things for you so far. But I'm not giving up. I'm going to make it tomorrow and by gosh I'm going to camp there until I've sold my heater!"

Much as it distressed Edith to see the brother she had always mothered leave her home, there was something in his motive and the manner of his leaving that gave a thrill of hope for his well-interest and approval. Edith, please don't try to stop me. It's for my own good. I'm doing it. I've done little things for you so far. But I'm not giving up. I'm going to make it tomorrow and by gosh I'm going to camp there until I've sold my heater!"

For several days Ned sent them messages about his strenuous campaign to sell his invention. He seemed really awake and working as only a characterful youth can. At the end of the week, however, he came to the Ferrol home, looking wan and grim. It seems I've floundered worse than I thought," he said. "I can't make it."

"The Universal Heater Company is the trust in the business. All the others are independents and small. They're having the time of their lives keeping living and that's the only way they can stay in the market. I can't take on anything new. They've got a chance to take me up offered me mostly interest in the outcome in lieu of resources to assure me it is worth going in with them. So I've got the heater on my hands. I'm sorry, John. I'm more sorry for the chance I have missed to make it up to Edith than I am for myself."

"What are you going to do?" Edith asked in a small, tired voice. "I'm going out today on a hunt for a job," Ned said quietly. "Not a slacker's job, not a hundred-a-week job, nor a windfall, but a job at anything I can do, so long as I am my own meat ticket."

Edith did not know whether his announcement brought her joy, or whether it extinguished her last glimmer of hope for the solution of their money problems. (To Be Continued)

At a special meeting of the second district, Federation of Mothers' clubs, which Mrs. Edna Altken, the president, called to order, the plan for establishing community centers throughout California, as presented and outlined by the plan, was discussed and approved.

Women Rally To Support Of State Bills

By GEORGIA G. BORDWELL.

All the months of preparation that have gone into the framing of the three legislative bills for the protection of women and children, the bills chosen by the Women's Legislative Council for presentation to the next legislature—suddenly crystallized into a very definite move on Friday, when Mrs. A. E. Carter, president of the Council, went to Sacramento to arrange for headquarters to be used during the next session of the California legislature.

These three bills, one providing for equal property rights for men and women, one providing for an increase in the elementary school money and one for an industrial home for women, will have the moral and financial backing of the council which includes about 5000 women.

While in Sacramento, Mrs. Carter conferred with Mrs. F. C. Gillette, president of the Women's Council of Sacramento, with Mrs. L. W. Nickell, president of the Tuesday club, and Mrs. L. A. Brown, chairman of the program committee of the Tuesday club.

Mrs. Gillette accepted the chairmanship of the bill on public speaking for that county. Mrs. Carter returned to Sacramento yesterday, Sunday at home, accompanied by Mrs. Aaron Schloss, they will complete arrangements for the final hearing of the bills.

The committee sponsoring the industrial home bill, Mrs. Aaron Schloss, chairman, and the Women's Council of Sacramento, will have the bills introduced Friday. This committee includes Mrs. Julia George and Mrs. Elizabeth McMillan.

On Saturday, Miss Gail Laughlin called a meeting of her committee to compile and means for sustaining interest in the community property bill until the legislature meets in January. As a direct outcome of the Children's Year, committee, under the leadership of Dr. Adelaide Brown, a bureau of child hygiene is to be established in the State Board of Health.

It was the hope of the Federal bureau that such State bureaus would be established by executive order, but the women's committee of the State Council of Defense, which has forwarded in every way possible, the bills for the establishment of child hygiene in the State Board of Health.

The position of director of the child hygiene bureau is open for some properly qualified person. The California Civil Service Commission announces that the examination for director will be held in Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles, December 14, 1918. The salary is $3000 a year.

MRS. A. E. CARTER'S DUTIES COVER WIDE SCOPE. The duties of the position are the administration of the affairs of this bureau, which includes the supervision of activities of the organization of local agencies to further the cause of child hygiene, the improvement of birth registration, medical inspection of school children, the improvement of the public health, the improvement of the carrying on of prenatal instruction and follow-up work with the aid of field nurses working under the bureau.

In addition to these duties, the director will have charge of the writings and compilation of publications, the general subject of child hygiene. Candidates must be graduates of a recognized medical school, or have had a full time public health position, or have had two years' experience as holder of a full time public health position, or have had two years' experience as holder of a full time public health position, or have had two years' experience as holder of a full time public health position.

The examination is open to all American citizens residing in California who are not over 45 years of age on the date of the examination, and who meet the requirements of the position. For further particulars applicants are referred to the Oakland Women's committee State Council of Defense, 420 Central Bank building.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, nervous-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "run-downs," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a spoonful of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constantly very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation.—Advertisement.

TEACHERS LAUDED BY SCHOOL BOARD

The Oakland Board of Education last night adopted the following resolution in appreciation of the work done by the teachers in the recent influenza epidemic:

"Whereas, the epidemic scourge of influenza now seems safely past, due to the energetic and untiring measures of the health department, and the heroic efforts of the teachers, and the brave forward to meet the emergency in Oakland, none did more valiant service than the members of the teaching corps of the public schools, and

"Whereas, many of the most effective measures taken by the health authorities to alleviate the tremendous suffering and to stamp out the disease were possible only through their efforts, and

"Whereas, the unreserved statement of those in charge of the immense system of municipal hospital, including the Auditorium hospital, the baby nursery, etc., that the situation could not have been maintained without the public school teachers, and

"Whereas, it is a matter of pride that the loyal spirit of self-sacrifice and service, the thorough efficiency and community interest and leadership which characterizes our teaching corps could be so capitalized in holding this signal service to the community, be it

"Resolved therefore, that the Board of Education as the official governing body of the teaching corps of Oakland shall express its appreciation of the heroic and devoted service of the teachers of Oakland and its appreciation of the spirit of gratitude which seems to be holding the public in increasing measure in obligation to the public school teacher will rapidly broaden into a proper recognition and fitting reward that the individual and true place the teacher in her true sphere as the most fundamentally indispensable community leader in a democracy, and be it further

"Resolved, that a resolution be given to the public press and sent to the various organizations of the teaching body of the public schools of Oakland."

A MONUMENT DESTROYED.

Uncertain is the test of time upon the verdict of the passing day. Thus the cable carries across the Pacific the news that the Von Ketteler monument in Peking is being torn down. This marble pile was a sign of China's humiliation at the hands of Germany seventeen years ago, designed by the former master of Potsdam to be permanent.

Baron Von Ketteler, the German minister to China, was assassinated in Peking in 1900 by Chinese fanatics. His murder precipitated the Siege of the Legations in the Chinese capital, which was finally raised upon the arrival of military expeditions from England, France, Germany, Russia, Japan, Italy and the United States. The German contingent was a full division, commanded by one of Prussia's most distinguished generals, Field Marshal Count von Waldersee. To the troops comprising it Kaiser Wilhelm delivered his since notorious injunction to make themselves more terrible than Attila the Hun, so that never again would a Chinese look at a German askance.

This body of Huns carried out the ferocious instructions of its imperial master with a vengeance. It was the shame of the international troops sent to China to give a lesson in observance of the law and maintenance of treaty guarantees of the safety of foreign residents. It slew ruthlessly and returned home with much booty. Among the loot transported to Berlin were the astronomical instruments of the laboratory of the government university at Peking, which at the beginning of the present war dignified some of the Kaiser's palaces.

But to kill, steal and ravage was not enough for the Germans. A Chinese prince was compelled to visit Berlin to render abject apology for the transgressions of his fellow countrymen, China was forced to pay an enormous indemnity for the murder of Von Ketteler and in addition to erect a monument to his memory. This latter was in the form of a marble arch across Hataman street in Peking. It spanned the main thoroughfare over which the people and officials of the capital had to pass daily. On it were words calculated to remind the Chinese of their crime and of the punishment to be expected of Germany in case of repetition. It was also a reminder of German supremacy, of the nation that punished as it willed, of the "superman" of Europe.

But the mighty have fallen. The Von Ketteler monument is down and Germany powerless to have it put up again. And here time changes the judgment on more important things. It finds that the Chinese are culturally superior to the Germans. The former were long isolated from other peoples. In a moment of anxiety over foreign intrusions a small portion of the people, the more ignorant ones, were deluded into believing it was righteous to exterminate the "foreign devils." Germany, neighbor for centuries to civilized nations, herself boasting possession of the highest form of civilization, deliberately and without provocation, became the essence of savagery, brutality, lawlessness. The Chinese have proved by all tests to be the superior race.

The fall of the Von Ketteler monument is a long fall for Germany.

AN EFFETE NATION!

Dr. David Starr Jordan, once a distinguished educator and head of Stanford University, has every reason to refrain from unsolicited opinions. On the one hand he occupies the distressing position of all pacifists and on the other federal authorities have admonished him to discretion.

But surely it would not be amiss for Dr. Jordan to correct one of the statements he made in 1906 in a baccalaureate address to the students of Bryn Mawr College. Surely Dr. Jordan has changed his opinion and does not wish his judgment now to stand. For he then pronounced the French an effete people furnishing a conspicuous illustration of the decay in Western civilization. Perhaps the learned pacifist would desire to correct himself upon the question of decaying Western civilization in general. If so there should be no objection from any source.

In any event those young women students who unsuspectingly listened to Dr. Jordan in 1906, if they have not already sensed the error of his conception of the French people, should read, as a harmless antidote what David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, said ten years later:

"No nation has reached the heights of the moral grandeur of France during the war. I set her as England's constant model. Soldiers and generals show qualities of endurance, courage and military skill worthy of the highest deeds of Napoleon's army. We are now too close properly to judge the immortal pages written by France in the book of history, but historians of the future will write of the splendid deeds of her sons in letters of gold."

It is no effete nation that deserves this moderate tribute.

FINANCIAL RESOURCES.

No class of men have had their knowledge with reference to the financial resources of nations so magnificently increased during the last four and a half years as the financial experts and economists. Every country always has a plethora of wise men who know, according to their statements, just where the precipice of national bankruptcy is located. Their stock in trade is composed of files of statistics susceptible of many interpretations and a tendency toward dismal prophecies. Formerly they claimed to know the precise dollar-wealth of every nation, the normal earning capacity of each and the maximum income that might be earned under maximum effort.

Thus in August and September, 1914, just after the great war had started, economists, bankers, brokers and market operators were sure that the conflict could not last more than six months. They were so confident in their assurances to this effect that a great many people uninitiated into the mysteries of finance believed them. The most emphatic predictions were uttered by the most conservative financiers in the world, the Bank of England group. They thought that the nation that could produce or borrow the last pound sterling would win the war. But the Englishmen were not alone in their views; the same smug belief in the importance and inelasticity of the old financial order was world wide and world deep.

But eventually disillusion came. It appeared absolutely certain that lack of financial machinery and war credit would not end the war. Coincidentally there came about realization of the supreme power of the people through their government to control the traditional financial system and to use it as the national interest required.

When the armistice was signed two weeks ago there was no sign of lack of needed credit in either group of belligerents. The vital factors for the continuation of the struggle were production or procurement of raw materials, the labor and facilities for fabricating these materials into the form needed, and the distribution of the finished products to desired points. The matter of providing a medium—money and credit—of compensation for the several efforts required for each of the above processes was comparatively simple.

The lesson of the war is therefore to show that the financial resources are not to be gauged, as formerly believed, solely by the amount of currency in circulation, the surplus earnings of a nation and the loan value of national wealth. Those factors are largely influenced if not vitally affected by the capacity of a people for production under the pressure of a great emergency.

The performance of the United States has shattered all preconceived ideas as to capacity to finance national effort. Four bond issues have been floated since June, 1917, all of which were oversubscribed. The total accepted by the government was in round number $16,950,000,000. The amount paid in federal taxes between July 1, 1917, and November 1, 1918, was about $8,000,000,000. There has been paid in war charities during the same period about $475,000,000. Thus the people of the United States have loaned or given away in sixteen months about $25,500,000,000.

This figure a per capita capacity for loans, taxes and gifts of $255 for the sixteen months. Yet the capacity of the people was not exhausted, as evidenced by the fact that the unaccepted subscriptions to the four liberty loans amounted to nearly two billion dollars. None of the financial experts of four years ago would concede such a performance as possible. Mr. L. E. Lorree, chairman of the board of directors of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, predicted in 1915 that the United States would have great difficulty in absorbing the five billion dollars' worth of securities held abroad. Mr. Lorree until 1915 was considered the leading expert on securities in the United States. But apparently it never occurred to him that these securities must be absorbed just as soon as the United States produced $5,000,000,000 of goods desired and purchased by the European holders.

It would appear that this new law of financial resource has been pretty well established by the experience of the war: Having absolute confidence in the stability of the government, business and labor will accept government securities in payment of their joint effort; therefore, the country's financial capacity to prosecute war is at least equivalent to the value of domestic products in a state ready for consumption in war. In addition the country may be taxed to provide pay for the soldiers and sailors and still be able to contribute large sums for charity. According to this formula a country capable of producing all the material and equipment required can wage war for an indefinite period.

NOTES and COMMENT

It is stated that California lost more persons by death from the epidemic than from the war. The comment is made that the war was not a necessity, while the epidemic couldn't be avoided. A discussion of these lines wouldn't get one very far, but it could be maintained that the war having eventuated, it was necessary to see it through.

Holland is likely to be in hot water as long as Mr. Hohenzollern tarries within her borders. He will be a center of incitement to Holland's agitators, and a subject of protest on the part of such nations as France, which have a long score to settle. Just what niche he really would fit in it would be hard to say.

"German navy out of lubricating oil." The general understanding is that Germany hasn't much left in that department to lubricate.

The disclosures by returned prisoners as to German barbarities has not lessened that feeling that was engendered by four years of consistent savagery, but has confirmed it.

Former President Taft has been suggested as a member of the peace commission, and coincidentally has been offered the position as "sole member of the National Baseball Commission." He is the only man who could fill either position with equal ability, and who is not belittled by such suggestion.

One of the nervy things is the request of Russia, or somebody assuming to speak for Russia, to be represented at the peace congress. Russia may have started off pretty well, but fell for the will of the Hun and lost its status. It has now no entity that could qualify.

In reading of the terrible cruelties inflicted on the Armenians we could award the palm for savagery to the Turks did we not remember that they were entirely dominated by the Huns, and that the one-time kaiser referred to them as "our noble allies."

If it is true that a German commission is to examine state documents and report just who is blamable for the war and its prolongation after victory was out of the question for the time being, it is not surprising that a step in the right direction has been taken. When they begin hanging it, it will be important to get just the right ones.

We read an avowed purpose of new Germany to bring to punishment those guilty of precipitating the war, thus to prove themselves fit for acceptance among the nations. It is explained that the desire is "not to be hofish, or merely fit for a reception at court, but freihofship, or fit for the reception of freedom." Sounds big but rather involved.

It was stated in a despatch that the Hun forces are not moving out of the invaded countries as briskly as they should or could—that they linger and loiter. It is not remembered that the allies' forces which are following up have discarded their bayonets or forgotten their use.

The law regulating the parcels post is elastic. It was generally felt that it was well stretched when such commodities as coal could be stamped and sent through, but now a story comes from Jose about a pig being transmitted that way. There may be a few things that are ineligible for such transmission, though there will have to be some other restrictions than weight and size to shut them out, it would seem.

Sentences of men who get under the influence of liquor and then essay to drive automobiles are gradually becoming more severe. But they are only levied when the culprit fetches up against something with resultant damage. It would safeguard the orderly public if such proceedings were had before instead of after.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The Federal employment bureau throughout the country are proving an efficient arm of the government. In Stockton the office established last March has, up to date, placed about 4,000 men in jobs on the farms, in the mission plants about the bay region, in the shipyards up north, in the mountain logging camps and in various lines of work in the city proper.—Stockton Record.

About the only stable kingdoms now left on earth are the old reliables, animal, vegetable and mineral.—Cloverdale Review.

Is it possible, after the splendid vote Tehama county gave Governor Stephens, that some of our stalwarts are not to be recognized in the official family at Sacramento. There are some fine plums to be distributed, and on behalf of the faithful in this neck of the woods we plead for recognition.—Red Bluff News.

Rev. Joseph Hardin Cornwall, one of the few remaining old-time circuit riders, passed away this month near Dallas, Oregon. That would mean much to the average reader of this paper, but a few old-timers will recall that Rev. Cornwall was once a teacher in this county, he having charge of the Linna valley school. Later he was elected superintendent of schools. That was back in the time when Havilah was the county seat. He took up the vocation of minister after he left Kern—Bakersfield Californian.

The constitutional amendments submitted at the last election emphasize the importance of a constitutional convention to frame an entirely new constitution. There were 25 propositions on the ballot and 19 of them were constitutional amendments. They made some 25 pages of nonpareil type—taking up more space than the entire constitution of many States.—Riverdale Press.

TWO LETTERS

TO THE CHIEF OF STAFF.

New York, Oct. 25, 1918.

My Dear General March: The enclosed clipping states that all the American dead will be taken home after the war according to orders received by the army chaplains. I do not know whom to write to in this matter, so I merely ask that you turn this over to whomever has charge of it.

Mrs. Roosevelt and I wish to enter a most respectful but most emphatic protest against the proposed course so far as our son Quentin is concerned. We have always believed that "There let it lie." We know that many good persons feel entirely different, but to us it is painful and harrowing long after death to move the poor body from which the soul has fled. We greatly prefer that Quentin shall continue

TO COLONEL ROOSEVELT.

Washington, Oct. 29, 1918.

My Dear Mr. Roosevelt: I have your letter of October 25, 1918, with reference to the bringing back of the American dead from France. The policy of the War Department in this respect is of long standing, having been initiated in the days of the Spanish war and continuing during the minor troubles in Mexico. The policy is to return to the United States the bodies of our soldiers who died on foreign soil, and is in response to the practically unanimous demand on the part of the relatives of the deceased soldiers.

In view, however, of your desire to have the body of your son Quentin remain where he fell in France, which I am entirely in sympathy with, I am sending an order to General Pershing to carry out your wishes in the matter and am giving him general authority to take the same course of action with regard to the body of any other soldier whose relatives or proper legal representatives desire such a course to be taken. Very truly yours,

P. C. MARCH,
General Chief of Staff.

After the war is over Mrs. Roosevelt and I intend to visit the grave and then to have a small stone put up saying it is put up by us, but not disturbing what has already been erected to his memory by his friends and American comrades in arms.

AUTOCRACY!

Somebody in authority has issued a command that members of the Woman's League for War Service must not when serving as canteen waiters powder their noses. Let them strike! This is worse than that cruel and inhuman punishment proscribed by constitutions. It is just as mean as it can be. It is a mystery of physiology, but nevertheless true, that women's noses do, upon occasions of excitement, deep interest, hard work, heat, cold, joy, sorrow, dancing and drawing to a four flush, turn pink. That is a color or shade all well for soft ears and cheeks, but really it don't do for noses, no matter how pretty they may be otherwise. Therefore woman, a practical and sensible being, submerges the pink with rice powder. Are women freemen or are they slaves?—New York Sun.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Injection of Frozen Tissue

Newest Cure for 'Bleeders'

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D.

(Johns Hopkins University.)

There are a few persons with defects in their tissues, blood or fabric which gives them the name of "bleeders." A bleeder is a person whose flesh when cut allows a hemorrhage out of all proportion to the size of the wound. Hemophilia is the medical pundit's name for the disorder, when the capacity to accelerate clotting of the blood, the tendency from his male ancestors. It skips the women.

Under certain conditions, such as scurvy, jaundice, beri-beri, joint diseases and glandular disturbances of one sort or another, bleeding may take place from scratches or bruises, which is difficult to stop. The blood seems to be unable to clot.

In their recent researches upon hemophilia, Drs. H. Lowenberg and D. I. Rubenstein of Philadelphia discovered that almost all of the human taint, internal as well as external, has the capacity to accelerate clotting of the blood. They also found that the tissues of the hemophile, other than the liver and the thyroid, have the same general effect on clotting as that of any healthy person.

Simultaneously, they report that the liver and the thyroid gland or any part of them holds off the clot such a long time that the victim may have an extensive hemorrhage before the clot forms.

A little lad from a hemophile family suffered from a hemorrhage at the slightest cut. If he bit his lips or fell down he bled profusely or exhibited extensive bruises. A bruise is a hemorrhage under the skin. At no time did the bleeding ever stop of itself or by means of the usual measures. In order to check the bleeding, inoculations of fresh human blood or horse serum transfusion were needed.

Professor William H. Howell of Johns Hopkins University has shown that the blood of a hemophile may take five hours to clot, while healthy normal blood after it is drawn generally clots well within forty minutes.

Just exactly what ails a bleeder's blood is not completely known. There are absent in certain enzymes and pro-enzymes as well as over-abundance of other complex chemicals.

Professor Howell brought to light the fact that, if a hemophile's blood traverses some of the fat and tissue under the skin, it absorbs something which helps it to clot quickly. Therefore, extract and emulsions of various subcutaneous human tissues as well as the heart, bone marrow, muscle, spleen, brain, thyroid, liver and other structures were tried experimentally as a means to stop the hemorrhage of bleeders.

When a little blood from a healthy individual is drawn and put in a tube with a little salt and oxalic acid, it prevents it from clotting. If a little chloride of time is now mixed with it, the blood clots in about 12 minutes. Into a series of test tubes of various tissues were dropped and the time for a clot to form was checked off.

In from four to six and a half minutes, the blood with bits of heart, kidney, brain, adrenal muscle and other tissues except the thyroid gland and the liver. These latter lengthened the fluidity of the blood to 10 1/2 minutes.

Evidently from these new researches, the use of bits of frozen heart, kidney, brain, adrenal muscle and other tissues except the thyroid gland and the liver. These latter lengthened the fluidity of the blood to 10 1/2 minutes.

Who would have thought, after reading of the gay old days on the Comstock lode, that Nevada would ever vote for prohibition? The Bonanza State will soon have nothing but divorces to distinguish it.—Oregonian.

Popular Japanese Player
At the American Tomorrow

Sessue Hayakawa
well known Nipponese film star, who will be seen at the American Theatre four days, commencing Tomorrow matinee, in "The Temple of Dusk," the second production made by the famous actor's own company.

Splendid Music Score by Rosebrook's Symphony Orchestra to Add to Enjoyment of Film Play
Motion picture devotees are manifesting unusual interest in the coming of the popular Japanese star, Sessue Hayakawa, to the American tomorrow, in his newest and most successful screen production, "The Temple of Dusk."
In this intensely interesting play Hayakawa distinguishes himself in portraying the role of Akira, a youthful Japanese poet whose devotion to the memory of an American girl whom he loved, and his fulfillment of a sacred trust, is the foundation on which the story is built.
The scenes of the first part of the story are laid in picturesque Japan and later shift to America.
The other picture to be shown on the double bill is "Secret Sinners," a stirring drama of romance, mystery and adventure in which beautiful and accomplished Olive Tell assumes the principal role.
An animated news weekly of unusual interest will also be shown and Leon Rosebrook's Symphony Orchestra, of fourteen soloists will play a delightful interludic music for the pictures.—Advertisement.

FARMER GETS IT ALL, SAYS EGG DEALER

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Investigations into reasons back of the present unprecedented high cost of butter and eggs have brought forth assertions from produce dealers in Chicago that the farmer is receiving 80 per cent of the abnormal increase. The remainder was said to be divided among manufacturer, jobber, wholesaler and retailer. The best quality of butter in Chicago is selling at 73½ cents a pound, with strictly fresh eggs retailing at 78 cents a dozen.

Figures submitted to investigators show that on butter the farmer is receiving 50 cents a pound, or a profit of about 45 cents a pound. Shrinkage and labor in packing cost one-half cent a pound. The jobber is said to get 1 cent a pound and the wholesaler 1 cent a pound and the retailer 5 cents a pound profit.

In the matter of strictly fresh eggs, the farmer is said to receive 55 and 60 cents a dozen for his product. The country dealer who pays the freight of shipping is allowed a margin of 7 cents. There is a loss in handling of 2 cents and the cost of cartons amounts to 1 cent a dozen. The retailer's profit is given as 6 cents a dozen.

J. W. Low, president of the Chicago Butter and Egg Board, in a statement today, said the present high prices were the result of market conditions and denied a charge of profiteering by either the producer or dealers.

GERMAN NAVY RUINED FOREVER, OFFICER SAYS

BIRTH OF FORTH, Scotland, Monday, Nov. 25.—Germany's navy has been ruined for all time, in the opinion of a German lieutenant on one of the warships surrendered to the allies. He said today: "Now we have only a dishonorable record. No one will want to serve in a dishonored service." Inspection of the German vessels is proceeding. They are in a deplorable state, having been apparently neglected for a long time.

S. Shaw, a cook of this city, and E. J. Nowell and George Nickladia, firemen of San Francisco, were among those who succumbed to exposure and hunger following the wrecking of the steamer Dumaru, which was struck by lightning near Guam last month, with the result that the cargo of T. N. T. and kerosene was set on fire, according to announcement just made by the Navy Department. Two men of the crew were drowned and the others met their fate in open boats.

Husband's Anger Cruel, Wife Claims

Fits of ungovernable temper during which he committed many acts of extreme cruelty, are alleged against Charles H. Gibson in the divorce complaint of Mrs. Mary S. Gibson, filed today. The complaint charges that on one occasion the defendant dragged one of the children downstairs by its feet and violently threw it to the floor. That he broke up valuable chinaware and other articles while in a passion, and for long periods spoke to his wife only in anger, are alleged. The complaint recited that the defendant is in the importing business, earning $600 a month. They were married in Edmonton, Alberta, in 1905, and have three children. Alimony is demanded as the court may direct.

Intemperance is alleged against Mrs. Katherine B. French in the suit for divorce filed by Robert P. French.

DEFER ACTION IN MOONEY MATTER

Organized labor of Alameda county, as represented by the Central Labor Council, has deferred strike action in the "free-or-retry" Mooney movement from December 2 to December 9. A resolution to that effect was adopted at the regular weekly meeting of the council last night and copies thereof forwarded today to the affiliated unions. The date was changed to conform with that set by the majority of unions throughout the country for a Mooney demonstration.

At the same time a notice was served on each of the unions to appoint a committee of five to handle a strike, should such eventuate. It was suggested by the council that these committees be empowered to govern the matter in its entirety and that they instruct the members of their organizations to refrain from congregating in the streets or other public places on December 3. The council states that it is the purpose to continue the walkout, should it be ordered, until such time as Mooney is granted a new trial or is freed.

COUNCIL THANKS 'FLU' WORKERS

The City Council this morning adopted the following resolution which was introduced by Mayor John L. Davis, expressing the council's appreciation of the splendid work done by those who aided in the great work of fighting the flu epidemic. The resolution follows: "The people of Oakland, through their City Council, send out their heartfelt thanks to those who came forward and rendered invaluable aid to the epidemic sufferers:

"Your names are not all known, but your service is recorded with a power that will keep it forever enshrined. The lives you saved are living expressions of a patriotic service, while those who were called 'Home' will keep aglow your sacrifice beyond our power to equal."

"To Dr. Bateau the people offer sincere appreciation of a leadership marked by untiring effort and wonderful results to his honor and to the credit of his many willing assistants. To Dr. Crosby and Dr. Hamlin we send along the admiration of our citizens who appreciate their services in fighting this epidemic which threatened an exacted awful toll in life and suffering."

"To the doctors who donated their services, placing their days and nights at the call of their suffering fellowmen, we voice the admiration of our people who deeply appreciate your noble service."

"And now to the nurses, the willing workers of high social rank and lowlier stations as well, who came forward silently and joined in the sacrifice—the hearts of our people go out to you in open and silent appreciation. Your work is a monument to Oakland's part in the great world struggle which was threatened by this epidemic. The danger was scarcely less than service in the trenches and the work was for your country as much as the privilege to actually bear arms."

"To you all, leaders, doctors, nurses, willing workers and donors of clothing and other necessities, we voice a spirit of thanks and devotion which permeates our community. Your noble work is far beyond our power to compensate and we offer this word of thanks knowing well that the lives you saved and the suffering you relieved is the highest tribute that can be paid to mortal being."

"Take up thy bed and walk" was very literally obeyed by the burglar who broke into the home of Mrs.

M. Bates, 3337 Howe street. Not only was her bed taken for a walk, but the mattress, springs, pillows, boudoir cap and bedding was also included in the persuasive invitation of the night prowler.

That some local thief with a preference for soft beds plays his trade in the city is evidenced by the fact that Mrs. Bates' home is the third one within a fortnight to be so burglarized.

"I'm in town, Honey!"

What kind of pudding will your table bear this Thanksgiving day?

HERE will be a big change in the tables of thousands of homes this Thanksgiving. In place of the old familiar home-made plum pudding there will be a new kind—an improved kind—a plum pudding that has brushed aside time-worn conventions and through sheer merit, won the right to a place on the up-to-date, properly set Thanksgiving table.

It will be readily conceded that no ordinary plum pudding could do this; and it is no ordinary pudding that has done it. As just stated, it is an improved pudding—the kind of pudding the unusually skilled and gifted housewife enjoyed the good fortune of being able to offer her family once in a great many seasons—when everything went just right.

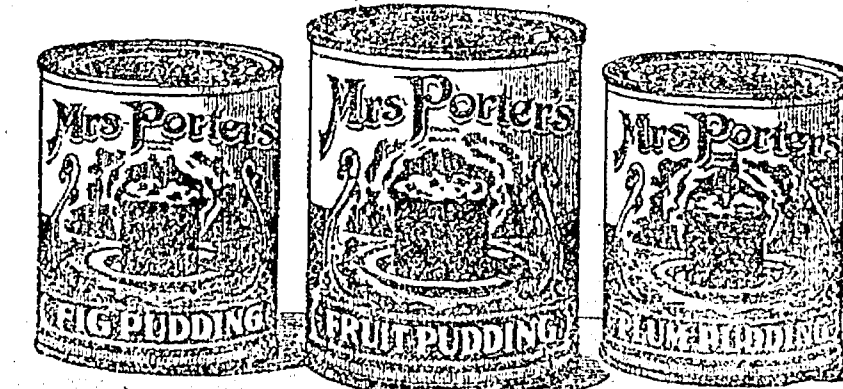

It is conceded among practically all housewives and professional chefs that one of the most difficult of all cooking and baking accomplishments is the perfect plum pudding.

Mrs. Potter discovered the knack of this difficult accomplishment. Then she commercialized her art so all the many families located within a reasonable shipping distance could enjoy perfect plum puddings always—enjoy them from September to March—get a fill of them.

It was very hard to convince folks at first of what she had done for the public. A few, however, tried her puddings—the trial convinced—won their favor and patronage. Then came others—and others; and the demand has grown and grown until the last few seasons it has been a case of not being able to supply the demand. In this respect the present season is sure to eclipse all previous ones because more people have learned of the wonderful goodness, absolute uniformity and pronounced economy of Mrs. Potter's Plum Puddings.

This advertisement is inserted merely to caution those who have intended to take advantage of the opportunity of being able to have a Mrs. Potter's Plum Pudding on the Thanksgiving Day table instead of putting in a lot of time and hard work making one, to order at once before the present small reserve stock grocers have been able to procure, has been exhausted. There are two sizes—forty cents and seventy-five cents; the Fig and Fruit Pudding sell for twenty cents and thirty-five cents. Make sure of the name—Mrs. Potter.

RAISE SCHOOL AGE, IS PLEA OF HUNTER

That the youths of this country cannot compete with their environment on the meager education that over two-thirds of the children receive is the substance of a report made by Fred Hunter, superintendent of schools in Oakland, to the school board. Hunter purposes introducing a bill which will compel the attendance of boys and girls at local high schools continuously up to the age of 16 and a partial attendance up to the age of 18.

"A homogeneous citizenship, with the proper national ideas, cannot be maintained unless all the youth of the country are given, upon matters vital to the character of their citizenship, the right sort of training throughout the country," declares Hunter.

Hunter claims that the public schools are today the formative of our citizenry and that upon them depends the character of our citizens.

Without a proper school education and a sufficient one Hunter declares the young men and women of the country cannot meet the in-

French Orchestra to Be Honored Citizens Will Acclaim Artists

The most representative citizens of Oakland and the Eastbay cities will aid in greeting the famous French National Orchestra when it comes to Oakland December 5 to play at the Ye Liberty theater under the auspices of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

The organization is the most famous aggregation of artists in the French Republic and is composed of 86 players, all of whom are noted. The orchestra is led by Andre Messager, famous in a dozen European countries as a conductor.

Plans for a luncheon and public reception for the Frenchmen, who are touring this country under special permission from the French government, already have been completed. Mayor Davis also has issued a proclamation calling upon the public to participate in a patriotic demonstration for the French visitors. Here is the personnel of the general committee which today is perfecting the final details for the reception of the Frenchmen:

W. R. Alberger, Mrs. M. A. Anderson, R. B. Ayer, Mrs. Wallace M. Alexander, Eugene Blanchard, Mrs. H. E. Bonestell, Miss Annie Florence Brown, W. W. Chapin, H. C. Capwell, Joseph E. Caine, J. P. Carlson, Miss Mollie Connors.

Mayor John L. Davis, Norman De Vaux, S. J. Donohue, Wells Drury, Captain and Mrs. E. H. Durrell, Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, Mrs. J. L. Dauban, Mrs. J. J. Del Valle.

J. Y. Eccleston, Mrs. D. E. Easterbrook, Mrs. Margaret B. Elliot, P. A. Fontaine.

Captain Harry George, J. W. Garthwaite, Mrs. E. H. Garthwaite, W. W. Garthwaite.

M. Hunter, Charles Hewes, Judge T. W. Harris, Beverly Hodghead.

Increased needs of civilization. He feels that the education of today is good as far as it goes, but declares it does not go far enough.

The laws enforcing attendance of children up to 14 should be so modified, according to Hunter, that all should attend to 16 and in many instances up to 18 years of age.

Hunter further declares that industrial training equipment is not adequate to meet the increased needs of the times and advocates increasing the number and facility of technical schools.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 26.—Seattle shipyard workers making up the Metu Trades Council are now voting on whether or not to strike December 6 if favorable action on their appeal from the recent Macy wage award is not taken prior to that time.

In the meantime Henry McBride, chairman of the community war labor board, announced that he had been advised that the award would be maintained in Seattle yards, and any yard paying over the scale "need not look to the government for reimbursement."

In the meantime work at the Bethlehem plant continues practically at a standstill. The machinists, riggers, blacksmiths and other craftsmen whose labors are not directly dependable upon those of the bolliermakers are yet on the job. Full construction of the ten 12,000-ton steel ships is suspended, however, and cannot be resumed until the riveters, heaters and other tradesmen affiliated with the bolliermakers return to work.

CONFERENCE REFUSED TO SHIPBUILDERS

In a statement issued today by H. A. Brotherton, labor mediator for the United States Shipbuilding Corporation Labor Adjustment Board, he promises no further consideration from the government to the striking bolliermakers of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation until they return to work.

"The differences because of which the men quit yesterday were trivial," Brotherton said, "and could be adjusted easily, but the men were bound by their agreement with the Labor Board not to strike until these differences could be passed on by the board's officials. They violated this agreement and we would violate it also if we considered these grievances at this time. One member of the board is a representative of the American Federation of Labor, which should make the agreement doubly binding on the men."

No conference will be held by the management of the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation with the committee appointed by the striking bolliermakers to discuss the matters in dispute. A definite statement to that effect was given out this morning by a prominent official of the shipbuilding concern.

The committee appointed by the men at their meeting last Sunday, when the vote to strike was taken, called me by phone yesterday afternoon," said he, "and wished to arrange a conference with the management of the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation with the committee appointed by the striking bolliermakers to discuss the matters in dispute. A definite statement to that effect was given out this morning by a prominent official of the shipbuilding concern."

I had no appetite at all and seemed to lose all my energy. My nerves were going all to pieces and I knew that if I didn't get hold of something to build me up I would soon be unable to do any work at all."

"My daughter, who is a nurse, after me Tanlac and one day just about the time I had got my first bottle, I went home feeling tired to death and the next day I was down in bed with a high fever that kept me up for three days. It took me a week to get on my feet for I shook with chills till I nearly bit my tongue in two, and I was so stiff and sore all over that I couldn't bear to have anything touch me. My back right
